

Documentation examples

Below are listed examples of documentation authored by Greg Gamble.

ACE Share Package Manual

ACE is a C program written by Colin Ramsay and George Havas. The ACE Share Package is a GAP 4 Share Package developed mainly by Greg Gamble. The documentation is also mainly by Greg Gamble, though some contributions to it were made by Alexander Hulpke and Joachim Neubueser, and some portions of the manual were adapted from the standalone manual by Colin Ramsay.

Can be verified by: George Havas.

MAGMA documentation interface

The interface to the MAGMA documentation was solely the work of Greg Gamble.

Perl programs

The Perl programs whose `man` pages appear below were written and documented solely by Greg Gamble. Each gives its own `man` page when called with the option `-h`, e.g. `docpack -h`

`doc`

run a web browser on local documentation interface

`docpack`

(un)compress files in an HTML orbit

`htmls`

recursively create HTML contents lists of a directory

`mirrorls`

compile directory listing or compare mirror sites

`netmod`

modify the current network configuration

`setclocks`

set both the hardware clock and the system date

`xtango`

run an xtango/opal/polka/samba animation on an input file

TeX/LaTeX Documentation Interface

The interface to the TeX/LaTeX documentation was solely the work of Greg Gamble.

Can be verified by: Mike Fisher, Adrian Baddeley (for uwaexam class), Cheryl Praeger.
